The Perfect Storm and the Increasing Spin of Planet Earth

AA Metatron via James Tyberonn

Greeting Beloved! I am Metatron, Lord of Light, and I welcome you to this NOW moment, as I encircle each you with Celestial Light.

And so Dear Ones, we tell you that there is even greater life that circles about and above you, above the sacred Earth, and these energies are now flowing into your planet and available to enter your field of awareness. It is light of a subtle nature. It is not the light of expectation, it does not hold logic, rather it is the light of wellness, and indeed carries the energy of 'home' of the angelic realm. We will say to you upon this special planet of duality, this beloved and sacred Earth, that all who open and allow this Celestial Light to enter their sphere of influence, their field of consciousness, will immediately find themselves blessed in spirit, and glowing in divine serenity. This energy is quiet, this energy is reconciling, and this energy connects your chakras with your celestial home. It is available to all who come here, and readily so. This light, this energy encompasses and creates a place of healing and wellness.

Humans on the path as yet do not always seek to include wellness in their search for understanding, but all of you should, as it is complimentary to truth and all parts of your trinity being cry out for it.

Planetary Change

Now most of you are well aware that your planet is undergoing many changes at present. We tell you that these are indeed appropriate. All are designed to clean, clear and upshift the vibrations of the planet. Many humans feel the phenomenon of global warming, of hurricanes and quakes is to be feared and stopped. This is not the case. The melting of the polar ice caps, the winds, the shaking and such are all quite appropriate. These events indeed are quite necessary. Global warming brings about all of these, and as such the very evolution. The evolution you call Planetary Ascension.

It receives the energies of the sun, melting the ice caps, as it were, releasing that which has been encoded, traveling through the waters and the fields of energy of the earth, attaching and activating all that touches upon it as well. In this way, even evolution, consciousness and such begins to move forward. Many fear that the warming, the volcanic eruptions, the storms, the earth quaking, and the magnetic shifts will create a global cataclysm. We tell you that for now it will be more gradual depending somewhat on the reaction of humanity, whether it be with more fear or with a restructuring calibration. It is in fact humanities reaction that will determine whether there is to be a great cataclysm or small localized cataclysms. Make no mistake, Dear Ones, the changes will and must continue and if the masses were to be duly educated and open to the stance and vision of higher good, such appropriate changes could be made much more easily, and sooner rather than later.

Yet many among humanity are those who wish to 'save the planet' in your terms. Many misunderstand that the changes are requisite, and indeed the planet is not dependent on humanities salvation.

So the channel asks what is the nature of mans relationship to the living planet. It would be best if the relationships were to be synchronistic and be aware that truly a dialogue can take place now between the earth and humankind. For those of you who have spent lifetimes as the Earth-Keepers, the indigenous, the Druid, the Atla-Ra, indeed many of you such as the channel are here now specifically to hold the energy of these dialogues, and they are occurring.

Now, the difficulty with many others who are well intended, is that they are not intuned, not of a high enough light quotient to accept the true paradigm of the nature of reality. And so these masses , while they wish to assist, truly know not how. They believe that to prevent the change or to move it elsewhere is appropriate; better there than here, you see? Not all that wish to assist truly understand the greater good, the higher purpose of those events you term super hurricanes, volcanics, earthquakes and tsunamis.

So most simply react in fear to these events, and wish to be free of the anxiety. But to dissolve fear is not the same as understanding the fear and therefore the masses of humankind transmute and actually recreate it. To dissolve or to dissipate events of change is not necessarily of benefit, not to the earth and not to humanity. The difficulty with those that wish to assist is that they believe they know better & believe they are more academic in their understanding. Yet they omit the divine, they omit the integrity of that termed spirit, the metaphysical. They do not understand or see the perfection in what takes place because there is great difficulty for those in not understanding that all is in perfection, that all is in good order, then in essence, they do not add grease to the squeaky wheel, rather, they try to prevent the cogs which then become still and stuck and so the evolution becomes that much more difficult, you see? Always fear is the great culprit.

The Perfect Storm

Now one of the very important frequency upshift mechanisms taking place on your planet are the super hurricanes. These are greatly misunderstood, and greatly feared. Again the fear.

These are truly intended to charge the oceans with magnificent energies. They are not intended to be drawn to the lands. But it is as if the entire world becomes focused on where it will land, what destruction it will cause, and the experts predict where it will come to shore.

And so with such global focus, indeed the hurricane is pulled into shore as expected by the humans who watch in fascination and fear, and as such draw it to them

The true purpose of these storms, is to increase the energy of the waters and to allow it to electrically expand. If these remain at sea, then the electrical energy is simply conducted as gentle current waves to very great proportion of the planet. As such it is conducted to the land and peoples, not by wind and waves, but by its energy current so that it may reach that many more beings.

There is a perfection to it, you see? There is what is called the perfect storm in some ways, but the perfect storm is that which is the perfect blend of electromagnetic currents. As these then move through the fields of humanity, they are of benefit, for the frequential ascension of the planet and as such to the entirety of mankind.

Question to Metatron :

There have been some very powerful hurricanes that occurred several years ago in the Gulf Coast, and there is one headed this week to Houston. Is it accurate to say that when energy amasses in such an organized fashion that it has a consciousness?

Metatron :

It has an awareness , yes, correct, but to call it a consciousness is not appropriate. There is an awareness that comes together. Do you see the difference? An awareness is that which is a unit that works for a common purpose. A school of fish has an awareness, as a unit working in harmony toward a common goal, a common purpose, a single unit made of many individual components. This is not the same as a consciousness, a succinct energy that expands and becomes a mind, a very capable mind that truly wishes to become more, and is imbued with that termed Divine Mind. That is consciousness, you see?

Question to Metatron :

There were and are literally millions of people, particularly on the Gulf Coast, praying to soften the impact of the hurricanes that occurred 3 years ago, and the one that is occurring now, and I do believe that this can have an impact. Is that correct?

Metatron:

Yes. In essence, that which can be prayed as well, is toward highest good, and that is to allow the benevolent electromagnetic shift that are the true purpose of the hurricanes, but to have them remain at sea. To have them dissipate and decrease before reaching land. You see, they are very necessary, but they are not as necessary on land. Yet the reaction of the masses is to pray in FEAR. As we have said, what amplifies and draws hurricanes to specific locales is in part, mans fear, mans emotionally negative focus on them. A group consciousness , an enormous group mass field of FEARFUL EXCITEMENT is amassed that in fact draws them onto the land as well.

As you say, there are millions praying, but what most are projecting is fear. "We do not want this, we do not wish this, send it away !" But the major emotion behind their reaction is fear and that fear magnetizes the event, and fear attracts that which is feared. The entire hurricane occurrence becomes a media event, and the masses , particularly along the Gulf Coast become glued to the television screen and radios. The meteorologist draw direction models and make predictions of where landfall will occur, and the targeted area become magnetized. As such, a mass consciousness energy, of human emotional interference can become so enormous that it interfaces and effects somewhat the events natural course. Now of course the use of your technologies to give advance warning to people of coming storms is in itself quite useful, quite benevolent, but it is the dramatic aggrandizement by some media that to some extinct refashions the occurrence into an opportunity for sensationalism to capture viewer attention, and that is done in a manner that exacerbates fear and drama.

Do you understand the difference. It is not to say that human emotion creates the event, but rather that the amassed fear, when accumulated to a certain volumous inertia can and will magnetize and attract the energy of the hurricane to varying degrees. If this massive emotional energy were not fear based, it could in fact have the effect of having the hurricane remain at sea, or to landfall in a much less potent energy. So were the mass reactions attuned to prayers of greatest good and harmlessness, without panic and fear, the effect would have a very beneficial influence on the 'natural occurrence'. It could dissipate it rather than amplify it you see.

Question to Metatron :

What is the higher purpose of the hurricanes?

Metatron:

As we have said, the purpose is to enlarge the harmonic energies and to expand the frequential increase and resonance over the water covered areas of the planet, which in fact represent two thirds of the earth's surface. Tornadoes fill that purpose over land. Cyclones, typhoons, hurricanes and tornadoes all have the vortexial spinning and that specific pattern both cleans and steps up energy not just on the surface seas and lands, but feeds it deep into the planet in the spinning vortexial format. The velocities and size carry specific ratios and are dispersed into areas far wider than just the areas that it traverses. They feed into ley and axialtonal; energies to a very great proportion that it may reach that many more beings.

There is a perfection to it, you see?

So what is happening form the greater stance, from the higher perspective is in perfect order.

This is then the perfect storm in the aspect of that which is the perfect blend of electromagnetic currents. The imperfection that is attributed to it , is truly from the stance of duality, from misunderstanding, from fear. Global Warming & The New Spin of the Earth

We have told you that the primary cause of global warming is the increase in spin of the inner molten core (iron-nickel) of the earth. The accelerated spin, increases the inner & outer core mass. The heat generated has a profound effect on the mantle, and effects axial rotation ratio.

It is the very mechanism of this torque change that is increasing the flash of linear time sequence on your planet. It is also the expanded mass of the inner core that subsequently amplifies the anionic discharge you term the Schumann Resonance, axial tilt, and indeed the very polarity of the planet.

At present this adjustment is not complete. And as a result there is currently an imbalance within the center of the planet, within the very core. This imbalance is caused by the instability created by the forementioned increased spin; how the core spins both clockwise and counterclockwise .

And so then there must be a balancing upon the earth as well. Otherwise, without such balance the earth cannot truly move into its higher octaves in requisite preparation for recieval of higher dimensions. So in truth and in irony, the paradox and greater reality unknown to masses of mankind is that without such balancing of the electromagnetics, there would be even more earth changes.

There would be first an earthquake, then the hurricane and tornado to balance, you see? Then another earthquake, then the hurricane and tornado creating a pattern of its own, which would not be of assistance. In this way, then, there is an anticipatory energy of how electromagnetics move about the planet, circulating about the grid system and then permeating the earth and then balancing within as well. It is not done necessarily to prevent earth changes, but to bring balance where balance is appropriate. The imbalance, left unadjusted, we assure you, would lead to cataclysm on the macro scale. Better then that the micro events occur to bring the balance and in so doing prevent the macro you see.

In kind, there have been coronal mass ejections, solar storms creating what is called solar winds that have been greater and greater and greater in intensity ,some of the largest ever recorded. So you ask what is the role of the solar winds, or the coronal mass ejections on the ascension of the planet? We tell you these are changing the vibration that affects the earth. They change the frequencies at which humanity's minds operate. They provide the interface to higher dimensional access. How does this work? The energy that comes from the coronal mass ejections is being absorbed into the tectonic plates of the earth and increasing the vibratory resonance of the earth through that method. These work particularly with certain power points and sacred sites. Particularly those of geometric crystalline overlay.

These then move through the entire node systems of the earth. If such coronal mass ejections create such a vibration, then the entire electromagnetic flow of the earth is affected. The tides are affected, the tectonic plates, the mind of humanity is affected, how humanity creates the reality in which it lives, the illusion it believes, how it feels toward its own life, how there is a community of beings or individual beings. All of this is affected by that which comes from the sun, that which comes from the solar wind.

Question to Metatron:

Many people have had great concerns about global warming and concerns about a cataclysm that was going to occur on the earth. Is there going to be a cataclysmic event or will it be a more gradual change?

Metatron :

As mentioned the current probability is that it will be more gradual depending somewhat on the reaction of humanity. There is a greater light quotient on the planet now, than any other time in the planets history, and so the Ascension is assured. The liklihood is that the restructuring will occur in the micro. But to some degree mans reaction can influence the course, will man resist, react in fear, or toward the higher good ? This will influence to some degree whether there is to be a great macro cataclysm or a small regional micro cataclysm. It is the Law of Attraction you see. What will mankind draw to himself? Make no mistake, Dear Ones, the changes will and must continue and if the public were to be duly aware of their co creation, such appropriate changes could occur more easily. Indeed, there are myriad other energy sources that are having a great effect upon the ascension, beyond coronal mass ejections. It is best to say that the sun coordinates all the others as well. When there are other rays of influence, even these are absorbed, coordinated and reflected by the sun.

Now the other celestial bodies, other planets also effect and influence your planet. This has long been known, but greatly misunderstood, greatly discounted. The channel asks how, exactly, do the gravitational influences from other celestial bodies affect the earth? We tell you they move outward in rings of intention that are then carried by celestial intent, as it were, toward the earth. Some of these are magnetic, some electromagnetic, others of a more subtle matter, that of zero field energy. Now the greatest mechanism of these energetic and frequential distributes are what you term powerpoints. Particularly, as mentioned, those of geometric overlay are among the greatest of these. It is the crystallization, the sacred geometric matrix that both receives, refines and distributes these harmonics. This planetary node system of sacred sites, grid points and powerpoints are is greatly involved in the ascension process. Both for the planet and for mankind, you see.

The Head of the Dove

Now we will add one piece. The area of Galveston Island is in truth the 'Head of the Dove'. This was shared with you through Enoch. The bountiful and profound book, "The Keys of Enoch" channeled by a great Master, has within it diagrams that map this. The area of Galveston is the closest area to Houston that is capable of carrying the celestial Light that we have spoken of at the beginning of this essay. Upon the Island are three modern Pyramids, called Moody Gardens. One is a botanical garden containing massive crystals , one an aquarium with dolphins, another dedicated to science, all created for the greater good. We tell you that when the channel and Ronna Herman took a group to align intent to these enormous glass pyramids two years ago, it created a spiral, which has been growing. That spiral counters the thick energy of the energy industrial complex of Houston.

It is well to note that the massive Hurricane you humans called 'Ike' that devastated much of buildings on Galveston Island, did no damage to the structure of these 3 massive Pyramids. Does that give you an idea of their importance in energetic terms? The storms, the hurricanes offer further clearing, and soften and brighten these energies. Not as a retribution, rather as a recalibration, rather as a softening of the pendulum of duality. Indeed many of the industrial cities in the Americas are being so effected. You see as those termed the Indigos and Crystal children come into power, this area will serve as a beacon in the New Energy.

The Earth is an omnipotent presence. The Earth cannot be destroyed. Whether you accept it or not, nothing is taken from the Earth that the Earth does not allow. Man cannot destroy the earth, only his ability to live on her. The Earth was just as conscious as a burning sphere of lava, as she is now. The changes that are coming are agreed to by Gaia, by mankind's Higher Consciousness and indeed to a great degree orchestrated by the sentience of earth, sun and that you term Creator God. Know that all is in perfect order.

It is the Perfect Storm. Fear not.

I am Metatron, and You are Beloved." and so it is.
